Auto Workers Seek Further Concessions

Report Ford Agrees In Principle With Union

DETROIT (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers sought Friday to bring further concessions from the Ford Motor Co., reportedly the auto industry's first to offer even a "guaranteed semiannual wage."

Armed with Ford's offer, the UAW also went back to General Motors hopeful of getting something better from the industry's biggest producer.

Ford and Union met briefly Friday morning, then took a three and a half hour mid-day recess for separate caucuses before resuming later. GM and the union met Friday afternoon.

Meanwhile Ford said Friday night it lost more than 25 per cent of its scheduled production this week because of wildcat work stoppages that have accompanied negotiations.

Ford said walkouts and refusal of employees to work overtime had meant the loss of 11,228 cars and trucks in four work days, Tuesday through Friday.

The union's high officials had no comment. They have insisted throughout the negotiations that any such actions by the workers are not authorized or sanctioned by the union in any form.

Just what was in Ford's latest offer still remained an official secret under a so-called company-union news "moratorium." From unofficial sources on both sides, however, there was agreement that Ford, the industry's second largest company, had agreed in principle with the union's guaranteed wage demand.

Ford put its latest offer on the bargaining table Tuesday after the UAW had rejected the company's "partnership in prosperity" plan. This was a combination stock purchase, layoff-loan and separation pay deal.

The subsequent proposal, perhaps revised in negotiations over the past three days, now reportedly would guarantee a laid-off worker 60 to 65 per cent of average take-home pay for up to 26 weeks. The company would pay the difference between what such a worker receives in state unemployment compensation and the 60 or 65 per cent.

AEC Member Sees No Health Hazard In A-Bomb Tests

CHICAGO (AP) — A member of the Atomic Energy Commission said flatly Friday night that the atomic bomb tests "do not constitute any real hazard to immediate health."

Dr. William F. Libby told the June reunion of University of Chicago alumni that radioactive discharges due to fallout expose Americans to about one-twentieth of the rate of the natural radioactivity they receive from their own bodies over the period of a year.

Dr. Libby is on leave as professor of chemistry at the University of Chicago's Institute for Nuclear Studies during his tenure as an AEC member. He said that AEC studies showed that as of Jan. 1, 1955 "The average contamination of the United States corresponded to a dosage rate of one-one thousandth of a roentgen per year."

(A roentgen is a unit for measuring radioactivity, and a fatal single dose for humans is usually estimated at upwards of 400 roentgens.)

"If all the dosage from all of the atomic tests to date be added together, the average is considerably less than one-tenth roentgen, and is, itself, one-six thousandth of a lethal dose," Libby said.

"As far as immediate damage to health is concerned, the fallout as of Jan. 1 this year could be increased 15,000 times without hazard."

"The tests, therefore do not constitute any real hazard to immediate health."

FIND SARCOPHAGUS IN KOREA

TOKYO (AP) — The Pyongyang radio has reported discovery of a sarcophagus in Sariwon, North Korea, containing relics dating back more than 10,000 years to the Stone Age.

The tomb contained a human skeleton, stone and copper arrow heads and sea shells, the broadcast, heard in Tokyo, said.

Farmers, Utilities, Labor Spend Most For Lobbyists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lobbyists for labor groups, farmers and utilities reported the heaviest spending on their "legislative interests" during the first three months of the present session of Congress.

Their outlays were the largest listed by the clerk of the House in the first quarterly report required by the lobbying laws.

If other lobbying groups spent more, they didn't report it. Many individuals and organizations filing reports left blank the space provided for listing "expenditures in connection with legislative interests."

Largest single reported expenditure was $67,073 by the National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn.

The Congress of Industrial Organizations ran second with $37,174, followed by the American Federation of Labor with $32,157.

The National Assn. of Electric Companies reported spending $29,610; the General Gas Committee, Fort Worth, $27,265; and the American Farm Bureau Federation $26,742.

The National Federation of Post Office Clerks, which was active during consideration of legislation increasing the pay of postal employees, listed expenditures of $22,597.

British Laborite Resigns In Favor Of Younger Men

LONDON (AP) — Hugh Dalton, 67, resigned Friday night from the Labor party's high command and urged that his elderly colleagues—with the exception of leader Clement Attlee—step down also to make way for younger men.

A more youthful executive group is the Labor party's only hope for the future, said Dalton, one of the chief theorists of British socialism and former chancellor of the exchequer.

He accepted Attlee on the ground the 72-year-old former Prime Minister is the only man able to reconcile warring factions of the party, which took a beating from Prime Minister Eden's Conservatives in the May 26 general election.

Dalton has been an influential member of the Labor high command, Attlee's Shadow Cabinet. This is the policy-making board which would become the real Cabinet in any future Labor government.

Writing Attlee of his decision, Dalton said nine of the Shadow Cabinet's members are over 65 and the party should start the new Parliament June 9 with a younger group, preferably made up of men under 50. The Conservatives will have a majority of 59 seats in the House of Commons, against 17 in the old House, and the prospects for Eden's government to serve a full 5-year term are robust. Everybody will be growing older in the interval.

Child, 11, Drowns In Piasa Creek

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Belma Lee Herrin, 11, one of the 18 children of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Herrin of near Godfrey, drowned Friday in Piasa Creek eight miles northeast of Alton while with a swimming party of several children.

The child had been playing in an inner tube in the creek when others in the party, including her sister and brother, noticed she was missing. The body was recovered.

Two Men, One Woman Killer Die In Prison Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Two professional killers and a pretty woman who got mixed up in one of their many murders died in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber Friday after an ordeal of last-minute legal delays.

Barbara Graham, whose love of money led to murder, died protesting the two futile stunts that kept her alive an extra hour and a half: "Why do they torture me?"

Jack Santo and Emmet Perkins, convicted of six murders, died as easily as they had killed—chatty and almost debonair.

All three were executed for the robbery-murder of a Burbank, Calif., widow.

Mrs. Graham, 32, was pronounced dead at 11:42 a.m. The husky, Santo, 54, and his sidekick, Perkins, 47, were executed together three hours later. The San Quentin gas chamber seats two and had to be aired for removal of Mrs. Graham's body before her companions could follow.

Rebuke Nixon For Talk About Summit Meeting

Talbott Claims U.S. Has Most Powerful Air Force In World

CUSTER, S. D. (AP) — Secretary of Air Talbott said Friday the United States Air Force has more planes "capable of taking off with atomic weapons" than all the rest of the world.

In an address prepared for delivery at a convention of the Stock Growers Assn., Talbott seemed to be replying to some recent criticism that Russia may have outstripped American air power.

"Regardless of what the Communists may do," Talbott said, "the United States Air Force doesn't scare worth a damn."

Talbott added: "No other air force has available to it a greater amount of effective combat materials, particularly including atomic weapons of all types and varieties, than has the United States Air Force. Other nations are striving to match the United States Air Force in air power and equipment, but they have a very long way to go."

"Air power requires not only aircraft but also highly trained crews. It requires a sure fire communications network all around the globe. It requires an integrated and tested logistics (supply) system. It requires experience in the employment of air power."

"Today there are more Air Force aircraft capable of taking off with atomic weapons, of being controlled by reliable communications, of being supported by adequate logistics, of being flown by highly trained crews than are in all the rest of the world."

"This means that today the United States Air Force can deliver against any target or area of the earth with assured accuracy the greatest destructive force in existence. That is true today—it will be true next year—I see no time when it will not be true."

Veteran To Plead Guilty To Charge Of Impersonation

CHICAGO (AP) — A decorated veteran of the Korean War elected Friday not to contest government charges that he impersonated an officer after losing his Army second lieutenant's commission.

Ralph I. King Jr., 23, told Judge John P. Barnes in U. S. District Court that he will plead guilty to two impersonation charges in connection with passing worthless checks in Georgia. A federal court rule permits trial on a plea of guilty in the district where the arrest is made.

King was seized March 16 at his home, 944 Eastwood Ave., Chicago, on an information filed in Columbus, Ga., charging him with passing a $500 bad check at the Columbus Bank and Trust Co. while wearing a lieutenant's uniform July 10, 1954. He was released under $2,000 bond. His bond was increased to $2,500 Friday when Atlanta authorities said a similar charge against King was filed there.

King was commissioned on the field of battle, but allowed to resign his commission after AWOL charges were filed against him in Japan. He holds the Silver Star, the Distinguished Service Cross, the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

The inquest was continued to June 24 to give the police time to investigate further.

Undertaker Tries To Cash Dead Man's Winning Tickets

MINEOLA, N. Y. (AP) — Last May 26, Samuel Brandt, 62, went to Belmont Park with a hot tip on a horse in the 8th race named Kitty Lightner. He bought seven $100 win tickets.

The horse came in and paid $10.80 for $2. Brandt's tickets were worth $3,780. But he never lived to collect them. In his jubilant excitement he dropped dead of a heart attack.

Brandt, however, had told his son, Daniel, he intended to bet Kitty Lightner heavily. The son thought it strange that his father's clothing bore neither tickets nor winnings.

Young Brand alerted police and track detectives to be on the lookout for anyone trying to collect a bundle on Kitty Lightner. Parimutuel tickets can be cashed over a considerable period of time, and not just on the day of the race.

Thursday, two men offered four $100 win tickets on Kitty Lightner at Belmont. They were seized and three other $100 tickets were found on them.

The two are William G. Hanley, 30, a Manhattan funeral director, and William J. Roff, 28, a chauffeur for the funeral parlor.

They had prepared Brandt's body for burial.

The pair claimed they found the winning tickets in a wastebasket. But police accused them of taking them from a secret pocket in the dead man's clothing.

Both men were released in bonds of $1,000 each for arraignment next Monday on grand larceny charges.

The execution was rescheduled for 10:45 a.m. and 30-odd witnesses gathered outside the gas chamber's heavy window.

The American Bible Society has marked its 120th year in its work for the blind.

State Dept. Refuses To Back His Speech

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department sharply refused Friday to back up what Vice President Richard Nixon said Thursday night about the enormous importance of the proposed meeting of President Eisenhower with leaders of Russia, Britain and France.

Diplomats privately were more outspoken. They were astonished that Nixon, one of the highest officials in the government, and a person familiar with its most secret deliberations, would have taken the line he did in a Chicago speech.

It indicated either that (1) Nixon was speaking with a personal excitement about the prospects not shared by Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles or (2) Eisenhower and Dulles attach more importance to the session than they have so far seen fit to disclose publicly.

Nixon told a Rotary convention that "This conference could be the world's last chance to settle differences peacefully and avoid a catastrophic war."

He went on to say that the big question which it may answer is whether the danger of "nuclear war" is to hang over the world for generations.

His emphasis on the ultimate nature of the questions before the conference ran contrary to known administration policy in two ways.

The administration line has been that nobody should expect any "miracle solutions" from the session at the summit. On the negative side the line has been that should the conference fail to achieve any constructive results, it would not be a momentous failure calling for drastic actions.

These attitudes were clearly developed in the television broadcast which Eisenhower and Dulles made from the President's office on May 17, with Nixon among the Cabinet members present.

Eisenhower and Dulles have repeatedly emphasized they would not go to a summit meeting to seek settlements but only to try to brighten a little bit the prospects for working out settlements later on.

The Soviet press and radio have accused Dulles particularly of trying to undercut the meeting. They have contended that the real purpose of the session should be to solve East-West problems.

Four Bandits Take $65,000 From Bank In Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Four armed men, their faces covered by silk stocking masks, made off with about $65,000 Friday in a robbery of a West Side branch of the Cleveland Trust Co.

In their haste, the bandits overlooked at least $10,000 in bills and then left $100 cash in the getaway car they abandoned two blocks from the bank.

Two blocks from the bank, the bandits abandoned the getaway car and jumped into another. Police said the abandoned car, in which some $200 was strewn, had been stolen two hours earlier from a parking lot two miles away.

British Rail Strike Threatens Steel Production

LONDON (AP) — The British railway strike threatened Scottish steel production Friday night and tightened its grip elsewhere on the country's industrial machine.

Prime Minister Eden will take to the air Sunday night to give the nation a strike report. This will be his second broadcast on the crisis—an unprecedented step for a British premier in peacetime.

Trains were running at approximately one-fifth of normal. A few factories gave their employees precautionary lay-off notices, usually for next Friday. But more announced shorter work weeks or abolished overtime in hopes of riding out the strike, now in its sixth day, by stretching supplies. Finished goods jammed up in company warehouses.

The Ministry of Labor said it had no figures on the number of workers who had received lay-off notices.

Hopes of an early end to the strike hit rock bottom.

"At the moment, there is no opening for a settlement," said Jim Baty, general secretary of the 67,000-strong striking Associated Society of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen.

Ike Uses Light Plane To Fly To Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — President Eisenhower set a presidential precedent today by flying here from Washington in a little twin-engine aircraft. Aides said he'll probably use the light plane frequently in the future for short hops.

Eisenhower came to Gettysburg to visit his farm nearby and receive the gift of a cow add a calf from the Brandywine Aberdeen Angus Breeders Assn. He planned to return to the capital Friday night.

The flight took 32 minutes compared with an average of about two hours required for the trip by automobile over Maryland and Pennsylvania highways.

1,000 Prospectors Race In To Stake Uranium Claims

HOBO HOT SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Dynamite blasts and a sheriff's posse stifled any claim-jumping ambitions Friday as the government opened a new area to uranium mining.

About 1,000 prospectors, only one third of the 3,000 expected to participate in the stampede, raced to stake diggings in the 2,914-acre area 4,000 feet high in Sequoia National Park.

The dynamite charge was fired at 10 a.m., official opening time for the rush, by operators of the Miracle Mining Co., Miracle Run, one of two established mines in what is California's richest known uranium area.

Although company officials denied the explosion was designed to scare away potential claim jumpers, it had that effect. Signs were posted and warnings issued that anyone approaching the Miracle claims would do so at their own risk. Few ventured close.

POSTAL SCALE UNDER PENDING BILL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The basic postal pay scale, which would be boosted under the pending pay bill, ranges from $326.40 to $13,770 a year. The lower pay goes to postmasters in the smallest of fourth class post offices and the bigger salary to postmasters of the largest first class postoffices.

Most pay envelopes in the service was tied to the class of post office in which the worker is employed. First class offices are those handling $40,000 or more receipts annually; second class between $8,000 and $40,000 a year; third class between $1,500 and $8,000; and fourth class below $1,500.

Editorial Comment

THAT 'SELL-OUT' AT GENEVA

One of the most distressing things about public affairs is the way that emotional charges come, through constant repeating, to be accepted in many places as solid fact.

A year ago this coming July, the Western powers, meeting with the Communists at Geneva, negotiated the Indochina truce which divided Viet Nam into two parts, one Communist and the other free.

Continuously since that time, it has been the habit of some of our more emotional politicians to refer to this pact as the "sell-out" of Indochina. It has been charged again and again that at Geneva the West "let" some 10 million Vietnamese slip behind the Bamboo Curtain.

This version of the events in Indochina and Geneva has been propounded so steadily that it has been picked up by others who do not appear to realize its distortions.

A review of 1954 events may serve as a useful corrective.

Last spring, after a hard battle, the Red Vietnamese captured the French-held fortress of Dienbienphu in what is now called North Viet Nam. Though the place was a minor outpost, the French had fortified it heavily and had deliberately sought this fight from fixed lines. They were confident they could win such a contest.

At the time of this decisive battle, the Vietnamese already held large areas of North Viet Nam, including portions of the rich Red River delta lying between the sea and the key northern city of Hanoi.

When Dienbienphu fell, it was widely predicted that an "exhausted" rebel army would be unable to push on to new conquest for weeks or months to come.

But what happened in fact, as a glance at the dispatches of that time will show, is that the Reds regrouped quickly and began pressing eastward toward Hanoi with embarrassing speed. It became readily apparent, and on this the trained observers on the scene agreed, that Hanoi was a doomed city and would fall to the Vietnamese before very much time passed.

This was the actual military situation, and the prospect, when the conferees were meeting at Geneva. The vital northern heart of Indochina was gone—or going.

You cannot "sell out" what you do not have to sell. All the evidence indicates that if France and the West had not handed over North Viet Nam at Geneva, the Reds would soon have had it all—and perhaps much more.

Possibly only important intervention by Britain and America could have blocked the Vietnamese conquest. Neither was willing to step in, and the weary French army was no match for the augmented rebel force supplied by China and Russia.

None of this means nothing could have been done by the West, including America, at an earlier stage to save Indochina. Mistakes may well have been many. British-American intervention might have been a wise course, though certainly it would have been politically difficult in nations just freed of the Korean war burden.

But the point is that by the time of Dienbienphu and Geneva, the cause was lost. The historians will have to argue whether the West let North Indochina slip away gradually, through a policy of blindness and drift. It was not "sold" at Geneva, for no one will buy what he knows he can take anyway.

Work Is a Good Answer
To 'Something' to Do' Blues

A group of mothers, all with teen-age children, were discussing the big problem of how to keep their teen-agers busy during the summer months.

They all agreed they couldn't face the thought of having them sitting around the TV set for three months complaining that they didn't have anything to do.

Quite a few suggestions were made as possible time fillers—swimming lessons, golf, planned parties, etc.

But not one mother thought of the old-fashioned notion of expecting a little work from teen-agers faced with three months of having absolutely nothing to do.

Every one of those mothers is overworked. And yet they were taking on the extra job of trying to keep their teen-age children amused during the summer months.

Wouldn't the teen-agers and their mothers, too, be better off if the mothers expected a little help from their children?

WORK IS A GOOD SOLUTION
Why shouldn't a boy be expected to pitch in and do some honest work to improve the looks of the house or the yard or make some of the necessary repairs around his own home?

Why shouldn't a teen-age girl learn to sew and make some of her own clothes, or take on the job of getting breakfast or dinner, or help redecorate her own room?

What's wrong with work as an answer to the "I don't have anything to do" blues?

Any mother worrying about how she is going to keep a teen-ager busy and happy during summer vacation might do well to consider putting the teen-agers to work, treating him like a responsible member of the family instead of like a child to be continually amused.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Kremlin's present rulers seem to be trying hard to show they're different from their old boss, stolid, stubborn Joseph Stalin.

This may go far to explain why the Russians of late have been acting moderately and even cooperatively, as they did in letting Austria have independence.

They probably figured it was time for a switch; that they could catch more flies with molasses than vinegar. Stalin was a real Vinegar Joe.

He got Russia into a dead end. With his inflexible harshness he forced the Western allies into rearmament and unity, the last thing Russia wanted.

Three of the top Russians, visiting Yugoslavia under the eyes of Western newsmen, act like go-getting businessmen admiring a competitor's establishment.

They examine a Yugoslav factory and commend the amount of cement that was used to build it. They say publicly their own Russians depend too much on steel.

Their performance to date—in public—has been a combination of visiting firemen, jolly good fellows and cousins to the Yugoslavs.

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Russia's Communist party boss, gaily explains to an Associated Press reporter why he talks so fast: "Life is short. Live it up."

While their flat tire is being fixed, Khrushchev and Anastas I. Mikoyan, deputy Premier, have a friendly wrestle in the fields in full view of onlookers.

If the West has obtained one clear insight from the visit of Khrushchev, Mikoyan and Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, it's this: Khrushchev is the real boss of Russia.

This was the first chance Western observers have had to see these leaders in public day by day and in varying situations and watch for signs of leadership.

It was Khrushchev, head of the Russian Communist party, and not Bulganin, head of the Russian government, who did most of the talking.

Stalin, fixed in his ways, moved ahead by plunging forward like a bull. He never seemed to change. And almost every time he moved he made new Western enemies. That sardonic, seldom-smiling man must have been hard to take, even by his intimates.

There can be no doubt Khrushchev and the others want precisely what Stalin wanted: a Communist world. The difference between Stalin and his successors is not in aim but in tactics.

The new Kremlin men are trying to appear better natured and more reasonable. If in that way they can soften up the West and weaken the alliance, so much the better for them. If it doesn't work, they haven't lost anything.

It's possible the Russian leaders have decided that a hydrogen bomb war would mean disaster for everyone and that therefore they had better try to get along with still not abandoning their long-range goal.

But that has to be demonstrated by their future actions. They haven't done much more than talk yet. It's possible they've decided the obvious dictator type, like Stalin, is old fashioned and has to be replaced by smoother methods.

STRANGE CYSTIC TUMOR ON HANDS IS SOURCE OF WORRY FOR MANY

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

A curious little growth which people commonly have on or near their hands is evidently a matter of concern to many.

Q—Would you please write about a tumor called a ganglion which I have on my hand?—Mrs. M. D.

A—This is a kind of benign, cystic tumor which is common along the tendons of the hand. It usually lies loosely under the skin and can be wriggled around some and moves whenever the finger to which that particular tendon is attached is opened or closed. It will usually disappear temporarily if given a sharp blow or hit accidentally against a table or something of that sort. If this happens it will fill up and appear again. It can be removed by dissecting it out by surgery (and possibly by injection) but it will return unless the entire tumor is taken out.

Q—What can be done to get rid of bad breath?—B. S.

A—I can only repeat what I have said about this before. Sometimes a bad breath comes from disorders in the mouth itself such as pyorrhea. Sometimes it may be the result of a poor diet or of something like garlic the odors of which are largely eliminated through the lungs. A bad breath can come from too much alcohol or smoking. One can only try the various possibilities.

Q—I have a 17-year-old daughter who has been nauseated in the morning for approximately 10 years. This is a terrible strain on her even though usually she just brings up a little phlegm-like substance after which she seems to feel better. What can be done for her?—Mrs. I. D.

A—This certainly does not seem like a normal situation. It may be that there is something in her esophagus or stomach which is responsible. I should think that X-rays after swallowing barium, and other studies would be indicated since it must be a serious burden for a 17-year-old girl to be feeling miserable this way so much of the time.

Q—My husband has perspired freely since childhood. A co-worker told him that this is abnormal and that his diet is wrong. I have done my best to maintain a balanced diet and wonder what you think of this?—Mrs. E. C.

A—It seems unlikely that excessive perspiration is often the result of diet alone. If your husband is otherwise in good health—is not losing or gaining too much weight—and the perspiration does not disturb him much perhaps the best thing to do is to forget it.

Manners Make Friends

Never, unless it is an absolute necessity, call a man at home on a business matter that should be taken up with him at his place of work. What would come under routine business were he at his office will probably seem like a nuisance to him if he is at home.

Be businesslike in matters of business.

Q—Would you please say something about a felon or whitlow?

A—This is also called paronychia. It is an infection around the nail bed on one of the fingers. In mild cases it can usually be treated successfully and promptly by moist heat, avoidance of further injury to the nail or nail bed and possibly the use of antiseptics around the base of the nail. In severe cases, or those which resist ordinary treatment, it may be necessary to remove the nail and let a new one grow out before one gets over the condition entirely.

Q—Would you please say something about a felon or whitlow?

Dr. Jordan is unable to answer directly individual questions from readers. However, once a week, in this "Q & A" column he will answer the most interesting and the most frequently asked questions received during the week.

Journal Courier Co.,
Dear Sirs:

You will notice a renewal for the Jacksonville Journal enclosed. We have enjoyed receiving the home town newspaper. All the happy events of our good friends and neighbors appear in its columns. Then occasionally we are saddened by the passing of someone we knew while we were residents of Jacksonville.

We are enjoying the Texas warm weather, but we do have some things that are not desirable, such as dust storms and tornadoes nearby.

Arlington is growing fast and is now near the 45,000 mark. There are as many as 48 to 56 newcomers listed in the paper every week. We are 22 miles from Dallas and 11 miles from Fort Worth. We are within seven miles of the International Airport.

Since we have been here several large industries have built within the city limits—General Motors assembly, Sears, Roebuck & Co., J. C. Penney, International Can., and a trailer manufacturer have erected new buildings. More than 1,000 new homes have been built.

We have been enjoying our new adventure, operating our own shop, but right now are not operating as our ground was sold. We are now in the process of moving the building and rebuilding.

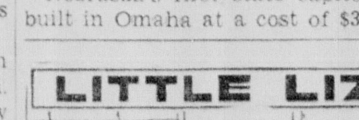

We are both well and haven't been homesick yet, but do expect to be in Illinois for a vacation sometime after we sell the business.

Thanking you,

Russian Double-Talk Act Is Dusted Off for U.N.

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—When the record of the United Nations Disarmament Commission's subcommittee meeting in London last spring is made public, it will reveal another amazing performance in Russian double-talk. The full story has not yet come out, but certain highlights can be given.

This five-power meeting—U.S., U.K., France, Canada and the U.S.S.R.—was held in compliance with a U.N. General Assembly resolution passed last fall. The Russians voted for this resolution. The assumption was that they would cooperate on trying to find workable disarmament plans.

But the first proposal put forward by Russian Ambassador Andrei Gromyko at the February opening would have set back disarmament by ten years.

On paper, the Russian proposal called for the destruction of all atomic weapons. This sounded all right in principle, but the western powers delegates wanted to know what would happen after the A and H-bombs were destroyed.

On close questioning, it developed that what the Russians were proposing was that the United States destroy its stockpile of bombs and the Russians destroy their stockpile. But after that, both sides would be free to go ahead and produce bombs as fast as they wanted to.

It took three weeks of frantic arguing to impress on Gromyko the fact that this would merely be ending one atomic arms race and starting another. It would be no disarmament at all.

Then Gromyko was recalled as Russian delegate on the subcommittee, Ambassador Jacob A. Malik took his place.

It was obvious from the start that Malik had no instructions other than to stall the conference.

The old Russian proposal for a one-third cut in armed forces was brought forward again. Western delegates questioned Malik to know what base the troop strength were to be cut from. They told what U.S., British, French and Canadian forces were.

Malik's only reply was to accuse the westerners of wanting to spy on the Russians by finding out how many troops they had.

His final concession was that after a treaty agreeing to cut forces one-third was signed—then and then only would the Russians come forward with a statement of what strength they would cut to.

This haranguing took another six weeks. It was the same old merry-go-round that western diplomats had ridden so many times before.

The Russians use the same words that the westerners do. The Russian offers to destroy all atomic bombs and cut military forces one-third sound wonderful by themselves. But when the final print under these grand offers is examined, it is always found that the words don't mean the same thing.

Over Ten Years of negotiating with the Russians, western diplomats have become allergic to this Russian fine print.

They developed quite an allergy of this kind when on May 10 Malik produced Russia's big new disarmament plan.

On the surface, the new plan seemed to accept much of the language of a British-French proposal of last year, which the Russians had turned down. For the first time they now accepted the principle of fixed, maximum armed forces for the major powers.

But there was a catch and double-talk in the fine print here, too. The Russian plan omitted any definition of what armed forces would consist of. Secret police and internal security forces might not be counted in the total.

The Key To the whole phony business, however, was found in the Russian proposals for inspection. They called for terms to be located in specified airdromes, seaports, rail and highway junctions and key munitions plants.

This was the provision of the Korean cease-fire agreement with which U.N. forces have had bitter experiences. After the inspection teams were set up in the specified ports of entry, the Communists calmly opened other ports. Inspection teams were denied entry and the Red arms build-up began again.

Western delegates also questioned Malik about inspecting factories which might not be listed as arms plants, but which might be making secret weapons on the sly.

"Suppose we should want to inspect a button factory?" they asked Malik in effect.

In deadpan seriousness he replied, "Who would want to inspect a button factory?"

And on this note the three-month meeting broke up.

The disarmament subcommittee is reconvening in New York to tidy up leftovers of the London meeting. Its record will be transmitted to the U.N. General Assembly in September. And the G.A. will decide what should be done next.

You'll Crow With Delight
At Chicken-in-a-Basket

BY GAYNOR MADDOX

Here's a recipe for delicious "Chicken-in-a-Basket." It comes from the excellent new Fish & Poultry Cookbook, illustrated in color and unusually clear in its instructions, and very inexpensive.

Chicken-in-a-Basket
(4 servings)

One ready-to-cook frying chicken (about 3 1/2 pounds), 1 cup buttermilk, 1 cup sifted flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper, fat for frying.

Cut chicken into 8 serving pieces—2 breasts, 2 wings, 2 thighs, 2 drumsticks. Pour buttermilk into shallow pan or pie plate; combine flour, salt, and pepper in second shallow pan or pie plate.

Dip chicken, 1 piece at a time, in buttermilk, then in flour mixture. Melt enough fat to make 1-inch depth in large heavy frying pan; heat until a drop of water sizzles in it. Brown chicken, a few pieces at a time, on all sides; drain on absorbent paper.

Arrange browned chicken in single layer on greased wire rack in shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 20 to 30 minutes, or until tender when pierced with 2-tine fork. Place into napkin-lined basket or tray; serve hot. Pass cranberry sauce, if desired.

The book give this practical advice:

To Thaw Whole-Frozen Poultry or Game

Place in original wrapper or box in food compartment of refrigerator. Allow about 5 hours thawing time per pound.

To Thaw Rapidly: Place poultry or game in its original wrapping in cool running water 1 to 3 hours (to 12 hours for very heavy poultry), or just until pliable.

INFORMAL SUNDAY DINNER:

Lots of Chicken-in-a-Basket, potato and cucumber salad, soft rolls, butter or margarine, whole tomatoes, scallions, fresh or frozen blueberry pie, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Both were dedicated scientists who liked to follow their own ideas.

Dr. Salk found the answer to polio in infected monkeys. Jenner found the answer to smallpox in a mild relative of the disease in cows.

Dr. Salk felt so certain of his polio vaccine he inoculated his own children with it. The second person Dr. Jenner inoculated with his smallpox vaccine was his own son. (Dr. Jenner had had the disease in youth, and therefore could not test it on himself.)

The Jenner vaccine technique was improved by subsequent investigation. But even now, through some biological freak, a real case of smallpox although usually mild will occasionally crop up following vaccination. Even a pinprick sometimes leads to death.

But U. S. authorities once vaccinated 3,515,000 residents of the Philippine Islands without a fatality. Where vaccination is compulsory, smallpox is almost nonexistent. Wherever vaccination isn't enforced, the number of cases of smallpox rises and it becomes a menace again.

If the Salk vaccine now follows the same steady curve of mass performance achieved by the Jenner vaccine, a quicker public acceptance and modern medical resources should make it possible within a generation or less to list polio and smallpox where they both belong—among the diseases of the past.

Three-fourths of U. S. standing saw timber is in small wood lots.

Sherwin-Williams Company Leases E. State Building

A building at 220 East State street which for many years was occupied by the Majestic theater will become the headquarters of a paint store.

Announcement was made Friday that the building, which is being remodeled, was leased by the owner, Edward Goldstein, to the Sherwin-Williams Co.

The store premises will be occupied by a Sherwin-Williams branch, operating both as a retail outlet and a service center for painting contractors and for Sherwin-Williams dealers in this area. "We selected Jacksonville for a new branch because this is a progressive community," said P. R. Bewie, regional director of the Sherwin-Williams Company with headquarters in Chicago, Ill. "Our inventory will include a full line of interior finishes and exterior house paints, plus special purpose finishes used by the professional painter. This branch will also be in a position to serve manufacturers in the area with specialized product finishes." The store structure includes 3500 square feet of floor space. Remodeling operations are progressing rapidly. No date has been set for the formal opening of the branch, but it is expected to be ready for business by the latter part of this month.

The Chinese had a wall

Generations slaved away their lives to build it. The wealth of kings and the skill of engineers were poured into its construction. And, when it was finished, it roamed a vagabond course over the mountains for hundreds of miles, like a great grey dragon breathing defiance from every segment of its poised body.

It was a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wanted no more war . . . and the men who built it actually believed it would protect them from aggression.

The Americans have a hydrogen bomb. It, too, is a peace-loving nation's way of telling the world that she wants no more war. And millions actually believe it will protect, not only America, but the whole world from aggression.

The only sure protection against war is the fortress that saves mankind from the evils in men's hearts which foment war. That fortress is the Christian religion. But even our religion is not a sure protection until it reaches the hearts of all men.

Support your church. Help it build the foundations of Peace in your own heart. And with your prayers and your purse advance its tireless efforts to build those same foundations in the hearts of all men.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Youth Injured By Angry Sow

CARROLLTON—Thomas Barnard, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barnard, was painfully injured by an angry sow Wednesday morning as he attempted to enter a pasture on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hartwick as he and Donald Price and Larry Price, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Price, were taking a walk.

The sow attacked the boy, who managed to extricate himself by using a hunting knife with which he stuck the hog in the side, and then ran to the Hartwick house where Chief of Police George McDonough was summoned who took the child to Boyd Memorial hospital for treatment for several lacerations on his arms and body. The boy's mother, Mrs. Barnard, is also a patient in the hospital, having undergone surgery there Tuesday.

The Price boys were not injured as they remained in the road and did not encounter the sow.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

Allen Dulles, America's top intelligence man, has an interesting theory that Russia's new improved preparatory school system, needed for the production of scientists and technicians, will eventually wreck the Soviet.

His idea is that mass education will in time produce a sufficient number of questioning minds to penetrate the fog of ignorance in which the top Communist leaders attempt to keep the people, and so reveal to them the faults of their country's system.

The Red regime already has acknowledged, through the greater liberty given its scientists for pure research as against the previous requirements for integrating scientific theory with ideology, that science cannot be kept under wraps.

If they ever acknowledge that economics can't either, then they will have taken a long step toward true coexistence with the rest of the world, as against the ambush which they now attempt. There is a difference, however, between the development of questioning minds against a background of deliberately supplied misinformation and the type of quest to which the world is accustomed, in which minds are handicapped only by a vacuum of knowledge.

For a social reorientation in the world, Russian thinkers will need historical truths which have not been available to them for more than a generation.

They need to know how civilized attitudes have developed, but they are denied the Bibles of all the great religions.

They need to know about democratic integration of the welfare of the state with the greatest good for the individual, something their leaders deny exists.

There are grandfathers in the Soviet Union who remember about these things, but who cannot speak. Russia's young thinkers have only what they have been told by the dictators, and that is mostly poison against the outside world.

Dulles admits that the advance of Russian thinking toward recognition of what the rest of the world considers fundamental truths will be a great deal slower in the fields of the humanities where theories are more susceptible to proof.

He says the prospect is sufficiently visible, however, to create a real dilemma for the Communists, who must have the scientists and technicians, must get them from a vast pot of people with broad general educations.

When you use uranium in a reactor to produce atomic products for peaceful uses you also produce plutonium. The thought that homegrown education might be the plutonium which would blow up the Russian system is indeed exciting.

Baker, Miksis, Speake Blast Homers For Cubs Defeat Giants 4-1

NEW YORK (P)—Home runs by Gene Baker, Eddie Miksis and rookie Bob Speake, accounted for all of the Chicago Cubs' runs Friday night as they defeated the New York Giants 4-1. Don Mueller's inside the park homer in the first was the Giants' lone run and snapped Bob Rush's scoreless string against the National League champions after 26 1-3 innings.

Washington Edges Indians 3-1 On Pair Of Homers

CLEVELAND (P)—Mickey McDermott held Cleveland to three hits Friday night as his Washington Nationals beat the Indians 3-1 on homers by Mickey Vernon and Roy Sievers.

McDermott, who shut out the Indians 3-0 in their latest previous meeting, fanned six and walked five for his fourth win against five losses.

The Indians scored in the first when Al Rosen doubled in Bob Avila who had walked.

Vernon's homer into the right field stands in the fourth inning tied it up.

Sievers made it 3-1 in the seventh with a blast over the left field fence, scoring Vernon who drew the only walk of the game off starter Bob Lemon. It was Vernon's seventh homer of the year; Sievers' sixth.

Stan Musial Hits 300th Home Run

BROOKLYN (P)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals hit the 300th home run of his major league career Friday night to join a select group of players who have had 300 or more.

The Cardinal first baseman drove over Johnny Podres' pitch es over the right field scoreboard with two mates aboard as St. Louis rallied for four runs against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the fifth inning.

It was Musial's eighth homer of the year. Twelve other major leaguers have hit 300 or more homers.

Red Wings, Bruins In 9-Player Deal

DETROIT (P)—The Detroit Red Wings Friday traded goalie Terry Sawchuk to the Boston Bruins in a big, nine-player swap.

Completing their second trade within a week, the Red Wings gave up forwards Marcel Bonin, Vic Stasiuk and Lorne Davis, in addition to the 25-year-old Sawchuk, winner of the Vezina Trophy last season as the best goalie in the National Hockey League.

In return, the Bruins gave up forwards Real Chevrefils, Ed Sanford and Norm Corcoran, defenseman Warren Godfrey and rookie goalie Giles Boisvert.

Brain maddings are one of the standard polishing agents used in the manufacture of tin plate.

Snider Leads Dodgers' 12-5 Win Over Cards

BROOKLYN (P)—The St. Louis Cardinals paraded eight pitchers to the mound Friday night and equalled a National League record while the Brooklyn Dodgers and Duke Snider continued their slugger ways for a 12-5 victory at Ebbets Field.

The league leaders belted starter Tom Poholsky for four runs in the first inning when Snider rapped his 17th homer and Roy Campanella got his 15th, and they never let up on the harassed Cardinal mound corps.

One ray of light came for St. Louis in the fifth inning when Stan Musial whacked the 300th homer of his career over the right field scoreboard with two mates aboard to spark a 4-run rally. That sent Johnny Podres, the Dodger starter, to the showers, and brought on Clem Labine who went the rest of the way. It was Musial's eighth homer of the year, and he joined a select group of 12 players to have hit 300 or more batters.

The eight hurlers used by St. Louis tied a record of eight teams which have used that many pitchers in the National League. The record league record is nine, by the St. Louis Browns against the Chicago White Sox Oct. 2, 1949.

Ramon Monzant, righthander brought up from Minneapolis two days ago, was the victim of the homers by Miksis and Speake in the third. Miksis's blow, his third of the season, came with Harry Chitt on base. Speake's homer was his 11th.

Monzant left the scene in the third with two out and Paul Giel, ex-Minnesota All-American football player, hurled the next 3 1-3 innings. He yielded Baker's homer—the third for the brilliant Cub second baseman.

Hoyt Wilhelm and Marv Grissom hurled the last three innings for the Giants and pitched shutout ball but the New Yorkers could do nothing with Rush, who had shut them out in two previous games this season.

Rush gave up only five hits and was invincible after Mueller's homer spoiled his shutout.

Tigers Defeat Orioles 7-2 Behind Garver

DETROIT (P)—Ned Garver, winless in more than three weeks, scattered six hits and drove in two runs with a single and double while pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 7-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Friday night.

The 29-year-old righthander, whose last victory was on May 11, tied the game with a run-scoring single in the sixth inning, then doubled home another as the Tigers wrapped it up with four runs in the eighth.

It made Garver's record 4-7. Cal Abrams, Oriole outfielder, collected three of the hits—a single, double and home run—and knocked in both of the losers' runs.

The Tigers' first three runs were unearned. Al Kaline drove in the first with a fifth-inning single, following a throwing error by shortstop Willie Miranda.

Then, in the sixth, another error by Miranda setup two more unearned runs, with Garver and Harry Malmberg knocking them in with singles.

Two of the Tigers' four runs in the eighth were unearned as reliever Erv Pillea booted an easy bunt.

Peterson, Pirates Blast 7-6 Victory Over Red Legs

PITTSBURGH (P)—Rookie catcher Harding Peterson hit a bases-loaded single with none out in the last of the ninth Friday night to give the Pittsburgh Pirates a 7-6 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs in a wild slugfest.

The Pirates, winning their second consecutive game, banged out 18 hits. The Redlegs had 12.

The victory was credited to relief pitcher Vernon Law who helped his own cause with two hits.

Steve Ridzik, last of five Cincinnati pitchers, was charged with the defeat.

First baseman Dale Long led the Pirate attack with four hits. Wally Post chipped in with four for the Redlegs.

Harshman Hurls Pale Hose To 3-2 Edge Of Yankees

CHICAGO (P)—Jack Harshman pitched and batted the Chicago White Sox to a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees Friday night before a crowd of 40,020.

The lanky lefthander set down the Yankees on nine well-spaced hits and drove in the winning run.

New York's only runs came on bases empty homers by Bill Skowron and Mickey Mantle.

Harshman set up the White Sox first run, drove in the second with a single and accounted for the winning tally with a sacrifice fly.

Bob Turley, who suffered his third loss in 10 starts, gave up only five hits in the six inning he worked, but he walked six and struck out only three. Three of the walks blossomed into runs.

The Sox took a 1-0 lead in the third on a walk to Johnny Groth, a single by Harshman, a walk to Chico Carrasquel and a sharp single by Nellie Fox.

Skowron tied it up in the fourth with his sixth homer of the year into the lower deck.

The Sox came back in the home half of the fourth to take a 2-1 lead on a walk to Willard Marshall and singles by Clint Courtney and Harshman.

This lead also faded quickly. Mantle tied it up in the sixth with his 12th homer of the year, a prodigious wallop into left center.

Chicago loaded the bases in the bottom of the sixth on a walk, a single by Ron Jackson and another walk. Harshman then lofted a sacrifice fly to right, scoring the winning run.

The victory put the Sox 3½ games behind the league-leading Yankees and one-half game behind the Cleveland Indians, who lost to Washington 3-1.

It was Harshman's fourth triumph of the season against three losses and the first victory in his career against New York. In all the Yankees left 8 runners on base.

Committee Wants To Place Service Men Under SS Plan

WASHINGTON (P)—A special House Committee Friday proposed bringing all servicemen under the regular Social Security System, and doing away with their present $10,000 free life insurance.

These were two key points in a sweeping overhaul of military survivor benefits drafted by a special committee after months of study.

Chairman Hardy (D-Va) said he believes the program will have administration support. The committee talked over the bill with President Eisenhower Thursday.

The legislation is aimed at re-vamping what Pentagon officials have called a confusing patchwork of payments into a simpler and fairer system.

It would cut out two of the five present survivors' benefit programs and generally liberalize the three others, as Hardy explained.

About 600,000 survivors—widows, children and dependent parents—are now getting some 425 million dollars a year on compensation rolls. The new program is expected to cost the government about 43 million dollars a year more to start with, but to taper off below the 425 million later on.

Hardy said he hopes Congress will enact new legislation by the end of this year.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market forged ahead Friday to near record high levels.

The steel stocks were strong at the close while automobiles and airlines were mixed.

Gains went to around 3 points at the best, and losses usually were quite small with the outside at 1 to 2 points.

Betterment in steel and the big motor companies came at a time when there were rumors of settlement in the negotiations between Ford and the United Automobile Workers.

The steel industry and other suppliers to the motor makers would, of course, be hurt by a strike. Brokers felt that a settlement without a strike might help most in the business but it could work a hardship on the smaller auto companies whose profit margins aren't so robust.

Airlines turned down after the Civil Aeronautics Board temporarily reduced subsidy and mail payments to Pan American Airways which lost 1 1/2. All aircraft went down in sympathy but all recovered from their lows. United was up 1/4 while American and Eastern each lost 1/4.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up $1.30 at $163.60. That is only 20 cents under the April 26 record high mark.

The industrial component of the average added $1.60, railroads were up $1.00, and utilities advanced 40 cents to a new high since 1930 of $73.00.

The market broadened out to include 1,213 individual issues in the list. Gains were scored by 608 issues and losses were marked up by 333. Eighty stocks touched new highs for the year and seven made new lows.

Volume was good at 2,500,000 shares as compared with 2,610,000 shares traded Thursday when the market advanced.

The American Stock Exchange was higher on volume of 880,000 shares as compared with 850,000 shares traded Thursday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Long term treasury bonds finished strong Friday. The corporate bond market improved also as volume increased.

Demand for distant maturing U. S. government bond issues formed the entire bond market. The treasury's 40-year 3s climbed 9/32 at 101 13/32, a record high. The 30-year 3 1/4s at 107 8/32 bid were up 4/32 and the 2 1/2s of 1953 rose 1/32 at 98 25/32 bid.

"Big Board" volume increased to $4,810,000 par value from $3,875,000 Thursday. Railroads and utilities led the corporate list higher. Most convertible obligations followed the stock market upward. Investment quality issues were firm, too.

MARKET STARTS STEADY, WEAKENS IN MID-MORNING

By WILLIAM FERRIS

CHICAGO (AP)—A weak tone prevailed throughout the grain list on the Board of Trade Friday.

The market got off to a steady start. Most futures inched slightly higher in the first hour. But midway in the morning a selling wave hit all cereals. The ground lost at this time was never completely recovered.

As a result of the downturn all corn futures sold in new seasonal low territory for the second straight day. Late futures also made new lows, as did March oats.

Wheat closed 1/4-3/4 lower, corn 1 to 1 1/4 lower, oats 1/4-3/4 lower, rye 1/4-1/2 lower, soybeans 3/4 lower to 1/4 higher, and hard 12 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower.

There wasn't any specific news for the selling. However, new crop winter wheat is now moving to market in fair volume and grainmen expected fairly large receipts at terminals Monday.

Scattered showers fell throughout the Southwest and Northwest overnight. The five day Weather Bureau outlook for the Dakotas foresaw 0.50 to 1.00 inch of moisture. Montana east of the Continental Divide was expected to get 0.25 to 0.50 inch.

Fears about the spring wheat crop being hurt by drought have been pretty well arrested in recent weeks and this additional rain, if it materializes, should be a big help in moving wheat along at a satisfactory rate, grainmen said.

Corn was failing to attract investment support. Many grainmen were expecting increased offerings of the cash grain now that seeding of the new crop has been virtually completed in the main Corn Belt.

Prices in the cash market were even weaker than in the futures, falling 1/4 to 2 cents. Cash dealers said corn was still being offered at a lower price, freight charges considered, in the East than at Chicago.

Outlook for the new corn crop is considered excellent and it is believed farmers in the Midwest have again overplanted their acreage allotment.

Soybeans attracted some speculative support early on the ground prices have got down close to the government loan level at Chicago. Once again, however, beans were upset by weakness in bean meal. Cash bean meal sank to another new five-year low at $49.00 to $50.00 a ton.

Lack of demand was the main reason for the slump in hard. Loose hard held unchanged at 10 1/4 cents a pound.

PENNSYLVANIA RAIL STATION TO BE RAZED

NEW YORK (AP)—Pennsylvania Station, the nation's biggest and busiest, is to come down to make way for "the world's largest commercial building," the Pennsylvania Railroad disclosed Friday.

The railroad said it has reached agreement on terms for building a new station on the present site which would be used also for the huge commercial building.

The papers will be signed Tuesday by James M. Symes, president of the Pennsylvania, and by William Zeckendorf, president of the big New York City real estate firm of Webb & Knapp Inc., the railroad said.

No details were immediately available on the agreement but a spokesman for Webb & Knapp said the agreement called for a year's study of possible plans before any building can be started. Negotiations with the city government concerning building setbacks and other architectural details are involved, he said.

The station is used by about 70 million passengers a year normally, but in the peak wartime year of 1945 it served 109 million.

Jacksonville Among 137 Entries In All-America Cities Race

Nine Illinois cities including Jacksonville are among a record 137 entries from 39 states in the annual All-America Cities Awards competition sponsored by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine, it was announced Friday. This is the greatest number of entries since the contest was inaugurated in 1949, and exceeds the 1954 total by 21.

The nine Illinois communities are Aurora, Bloomington, East Moline, Elmwood Park, Jacksonville, Joliet, Lake Zurich, Mattoon and Wood River.

Illinois has contributed six communities to the roster of All-America Cities in past years. Chicago and Rock Island were winners in the 1954 competition; Peoria and Park Forest in 1953; Brookfield in 1952, and Mount Vernon was a victor in 1951.

The contest is conducted to honor cities, towns or villages which have done an outstanding job in solving local problems through intelligent, concerted citizen action.

In each contesting community, aroused citizens have tackled some pressing local problem such as the need for a new hospital or school, the necessity for a more modern form of government, or the demand that corrupt or incompetent officials be replaced. The jury will select those communities whose accomplishments are considered greatest.

Feature Pipe Line

Jacksonville's bid for fame among communities throughout the nation centers on the $2,500,000 pipe line this city is building to the Illinois river, to insure a steady and ample water supply. The concerted action of citizens who voted by a majority of 12 to 1 to issue bonds and build the 23 mile transmission line is featured in an entry submitted by local officials and civic leaders.

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland said announcement of the national finalists is expected to be made about June 10.

A screening committee will narrow the entries to 22 finalists whose representative will be invited to appear before a jury of experts on governmental affairs and prominent civic leaders at the 61st Annual National Conference on Government of the National Municipal League, in Seattle, Wash., July 24-27. The eleven winners selected for All-America Cities Awards will be announced early next year.

Dr. Gallup Heads Jury

Dr. George H. Gallup, president of the National Municipal League and director of the American Institute of Public Opinion will be chairman of the 12-member jury for the fourth successive year.

In addition to Dr. Gallup, the following will serve on the jury: John B. Gage, former mayor, Kansas City; Ewart W. Goodin, former president, San Diego Chamber of Commerce; Thomas Graham, president, The Bankers Bond Company, Louisville, Kentucky; Mrs. Ruby C. Grant, president, Washington Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs; Jack Kroll, director, Political Action Committee, CIO; Harry J. Krusz, manager of Internal Affairs, Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Mrs. Carol E. Miller, recording secretary, General Federation of Women's Clubs; Vernon C. Myers, publisher, Look Magazine; James M. Osborn, research associate, Yale University; Mrs. Ralph W. Rasmussen, League of Women Voters, Portland, Oregon; Dr. Henry Schmitz, president, University of Washington.

Receives 19th Sentence To State Farm

A big, husky Jacksonville man who has lost repeated bouts with a bottle was returned Friday to the Illinois State Farm near Vandalia for the nineteenth time.

James Ball, 49, was sentenced to six months at the state farm Friday morning in the court of Police Magistrate William Messersmith, another in the long chain of sentences he has received in local courts since his first conviction in 1928.

The charge was the same—vagrantry. Ball was released from the state farm only Monday of this week, came back to Jacksonville, but couldn't stay on the wagon.

Police records show that Ball's career of crime and vagrancy started in 1928 when he was convicted of automobile theft and served a sentence in the penitentiary. His state farm record did not begin until 1939, but since that time he has made the familiar trip 19 times.

Police transferred the prisoner from the city prison to the county jail after his appearance in court. Deputy sheriffs took the prisoner back to the prison farm to make certain of his arrival. But no one raised a doubt that he didn't know the way.
